News Release

FALMOUTH, Maine – The Maine Chiefs of Police Association and the Maine Law Enforcement Accreditation Program (MLEAP) announced on Wednesday that the Falmouth Police Department has been recognized as a state accredited law enforcement agency.

This announcement came after a year-long assessment of the department's professional standards to ensure compliance with a model of excellence established by MLEAP. The accreditation award ensures that the Falmouth Police Department has met or exceeds the critical policies, procedures, training, and physical infrastructure requirements identified as best practices by Maine law enforcement professionals.

The Falmouth Police Department is one of the first agencies in the state to receive Maine Law Enforcement Accreditation Program recognition. The accreditation is valid for three years.
